

Johanneshof Cellars Gewürztraminer 2014

One of New Zealand's most awarded Gewürztraminers, the Johanneshof vintage 2014 explodes with aromas of Turkish Delight, raisins and marzipan. The palate is weighty, powerful and opulent with its notes of rose petals and spice. A complex yet elegant wine unlike any other.

Johanneshof Cellars was established in 1991 and is jointly owned and operated by Edel Everling, a fifth generation winemaker from Ruedesheim, Rheingau, Germany and Warwick Foley from Marlborough. Both winemakers trained in the world-famous wine area of Rheingau in Germany.

All grapes are hand-harvested from sustainable vineyards and fermented in small tanks to ensure the winery has a formidable reputation for its Aromatic varieties namely Gewurztraminer, Riesling and Pinot Gris. Edel and Warwick also produce Sauvignon Blanc, Pinot Noir and Noble Late Harvest Riesling. The quality of wines produced has reflected in the many awards Johanneshof has received including Trophy for Best International Aromatic White wine – Decanter World Wine Awards 2005.
